THE GREATEST care should be taken to what we eat and drink, yet we are too often indifferent and careless, notwithstanding health depends on what we eat and drink.

In regard to drink nothing but the best should be taken. It costs no more than the indifferent quality if people would only ask for the best. Old Scotch Whisky is the most wholesome beverage yet known. Macle's Scotch Whisky gives an undoubted guarantee to those who are not judges of quality.

CITY ANALYST'S LABORATORY,
138 BATH STREET,
GLASGOW, 2nd October, 1908.

I hereby certify that I have taken samples of every variety of Macle's White Horse Scotch Blend of Scotch Whisky used in bottles during the month of September, and the result of my analysis indicates that it conforms to the standard for Pot Still Scotch Whisky set up in the London case. I am also of opinion that it is an old Whisky of excellent quality and flavor, which has been well matured in wood.

Healthy Children

Can only be reared by giving suitable nourishment. If unable to feed your child, the proper substitute is a food that corresponds in all respects with human milk. The "Allerbury's" Milk Food is so prepared as to remove the difference between cow's milk and human milk, and is very easy of digestion. They are also suitable for the delicate and robust, and when used as directed, form the best means of rearing a child by hand. The No. 1 Milk Food is given alternately with the natural food without fear of causing digestive disturbance.

The signs of expansion and development, which are evident to those who have known Egypt in bygone years, encourage one to hope for still greater improvement in the near future, but much yet remains to be done.

Hotel accommodation, it is true, is plentiful, and has greatly improved of late year. There are few, if any, amusements calculated to attract them. A Jardin des Plantes or Zoological Gardens, and suited to the tastes of persons of wealth and refinement, with promenade and refreshment which would tempt people to sit and listen to the strains of good music, and so forth, these attractions are yet to come. When they do come, the hurried few minutes and so forth, these attractions are yet to come. When they do come, the hurried few minutes and so forth, these attractions are yet to come.

PORT SAID.

Egypt, the land of the Pharaohs, where things written a tourist, and all over meet the eyes in striking juxtaposition, continues winter after winter to draw to herself the largest class of all nations, and Port Said, the door through which the greater number of visitors gain entrance to that land, is not receiving her daily shipments of human cargo of a superior order. Films and frocks from London, Paris and New York arrive almost hourly and may be seen passing along the streets and in and out of the shops, while the indigent owners make their first acquaintance with oriental riches and so on, or renew it with evident satisfaction.

Port Said, however, in the minds of most travellers, is a place to be hurried through, in an hour or two, or, perhaps, be pleasantly enough compared to long and arduous and long one's legs after a week or more at sea, but the possibility of being compelled to stay there for some days, as not infrequently happens, is regarded as an eventuality to be avoided at all costs.

Great improvements have, nevertheless, taken place here, and the town has developed in every direction. The town has developed in every direction. The town has developed in every direction.

Large buildings have grown up to accommodate the business houses, while the town and the wave of prosperity which has spread over Egypt generally has left manifest effects on the town.

As regards the style of the buildings, there are none to be said in its favour. There are none to be said in its favour. There are none to be said in its favour.

harder, and if you don't win it is not your fault." We suggested that the owner of Panes on his line in the Hurdlers Race should be, and is very grateful to Kamel Daws for the splendid race he rode. Daws has now put this line in his credit and ran a very good horse. Stillwell showed great judgment, making his first just at the start. For the first time two Sattans, who took this year, looked like winning but "cut it" at the finish. Capt. Leigh on Nighm riding a good race established the victory.

(Today's meeting was the largest we have had this season, and there was quite a good show of pretty frocks, though the wind was keen enough to make some ladies doff their hats and big coats of their early winter frocks. Stillwell showed great judgment, making his first just at the start. For the first time two Sattans, who took this year, looked like winning but "cut it" at the finish. Capt. Leigh on Nighm riding a good race established the victory.
